COMMODORE GRAHAM WILSON

Subject: 🎉 You're Invited: PCYC Change of Watch Celebration – December 6! ⚓

Dear Members,

It's that time of year again – a time to raise a glass, share great memories, and welcome in a new chapter for PCYC!

Please join us on Saturday, December 6, for our Change of Watch celebration, a cherished tradition where we recognize the outgoing Board and Commodore, and officially welcome the incoming team to lead us into another fantastic year on the water.

This year is extra special – we bid farewell to our 50th Commodore and proudly install the 51st Commodore and Board of Directors. It's a milestone worth celebrating in true PCYC style!

We'll be marking the occasion with:

- A splendid dinner for all attending members
- A fabulous live band to keep the energy high
- Dancing, laughter, and memories to last a lifetime

This event is a celebration of all we've accomplished together and a great way to kick off the upcoming season with old friends and new.

So polish your dancing shoes, bring your appetite, and get ready for a night to remember!

I warmly encourage all members to attend and help make it a night worthy of our incredible community.

See you there!

Warm regards,
Graham Wilson

Change of Watch - Don't Miss It

By Yolanda Romano

Yacht club traditions create the consistency and connections that make being a member unlike that of any other social club. On Saturday, December 6, at 6:00 pm, we will celebrate one of the most important nights of the year at PCYC. On that night, we will say thank you to outgoing Commodore Graham Wilson and welcome a new Bridge and Board that will be duly elected at our November 1 annual meeting. Getting to this night takes a dedicated committee to not only make sure the menu, decor and music are memorable but to ensure the swearing in of the new Commodore and their bridge is smooth and meaningful.

It is also a time to recognize the staff commodores who have generously served PCYC throughout its long history. The Arch of Sabers ceremony which welcomes this group to the event is a symbolic pledge of loyalty to the organization. The day-to-day strategic direction of PCYC is handled by the volunteer Board and Bridge. We appreciate the hours and dedication they give to making PCYC a premier yacht club!

It wouldn't, however, be a PCYC Change of Watch without a little bit of fun and frivolity thrown in! You will not want to miss the ever famous "Colonel Bogey March" amusing conga line featuring the new commodore in a highly adorned tri-corner hat generously donated by long-time member Jules Melillo.

So pull out your cocktail attire and get ready to meet some new friends, experience PCYC traditions and dance the night away to a live band! It will be a night - and a Club tradition - to remember.

50TH ANNIVERSARY COMMITTEE DORIS MELILLO - CHAIRPERSON

Over the next several months leading up to our Golden Anniversary in August of 2026, the Anniversary Committee will be offering historical PCYC club-related articles. Most of the early articles will be newly edited information written by our first commodore, Floyd Woodcock.

“PCYC Background & History” Introduction

To understand the beginning of the Pacific Corinthian Yacht Club (PCYC), you need to know something of its background. A chronology of PCYC's first years tell an exciting story of success and rapid accomplishments from an idea to reality.

During the early 1970s, the County of Ventura was planning for "Phase II" expansion of the Channel Island harbor. Concurrently, Boise Cascade and Zurn Engineering were beginning -- a major construction of water-front , through an expansion of the "Edison Canal". The west arm of the harbor was dredged, creating three new marina basins and providing navigable water access to the new waterfront omes. The bridge was built to complete this progress.

In 1975, Channel Islands Harbor had two Southern California Yachting Association (SCYA) sanctioned yacht clubs: Channel Islands Yacht Club (CIYC) and Anacapa Yacht Club (AYC). Bahia Cabrillo Yacht Club was a non-sanctioned club – part of Martin Smith's apartment project.

CIYC, the harbor's oldest club, was a short-term sub-lease in a small second floor, one-room facility. The membership had evolved a focus on power boating, cruising and fishing. There was little interest in youth programs and sailing. The facility was barely adequate for weekend bar activity and for self-catering buffets. There were no club slips. The lease had only two years remaining, and the landlord wanted the club out. The short lease made facilities improvements impossible. The Club appeared to have no future.

With this bleak outlook, CIYC started a "building fund" with member assessments in order to position itself for the need to make a facilities change. As Commodore of CIYC in 1975, I (Floyd Woodcock) presided over the planning for the process to seek a prime lease within the County's Phase II harbor improvements. After a hesitant start, strong opposition developed, primarily from the CIYC's "old timers", who remembered the days of $9 annual dues as a "paper club", and who were fearful of the future. The "building fund" was scrapped late in 1975 and talk of the prime lease ceased.

AYC occupied a similar facility, also as a sub-lease. AYC's lease made the accumulation of any capital funds impossible - the landlord collected percentage rent on all funds paid by the members. AYC was established as an offshoot of CIYC but with a strong focus on sail racing and little interest in power boating or cruising. AYC developed a strong youth program.

Even with the about to be developed three marina basins, no new yacht club facilities were part of the harbor plan; however, there were foresighted individuals who thought otherwise. Thanks to those individuals, the idea of a full-service, family-oriented yacht club was envisioned.

(To be continued in next issue of the Periplus.)

50TH ANNIVERSARY COMMITTEE: A CLUB MOMENT TO REMEMBER

MEMORIES OF THE 'SLINGSHOT' SEEN ROUND THE CLUB

By Thomas Kearney, PCYC Member

It was Spring 2012. Dan Citera was Rear Commodore and responsible for social events, which meant his wife Kym was actually running things. The occasion was "A Musical Murder Mystery." It featured country legend Patsy Cline, played by my steaming hot wife Alice (she's still steaming hot), and a pre-porker Elvis portrayed by my then actor son Tommy. Graham Wilson was the wealthy industrialist who would soon become the victim of honor.

After Alice belted out an out of this world "Crazy for Loving You," Tommy followed with a blizzard of "thank you very much's" that was dead-on Elvis, echoing that slightly slurred, velvety baritone that Elvis used to conquer the world. Tommy, dressed all in black, danced/writhed on stage like Elvis channeling the Lizard King from Graceland. The audience, including Tommy's father, was transfixed.

Suddenly, something black came flying from the crowd, landing feathery-like near Tommy's blue suedes. A tribute from an admirer, like a fan from the old days tossing her Vegas room key at the sex symbol de jour occupying the stage.

The unrehearsed launcher of the flying tribute was female. I could see now because it was a bra that had alighted onstage, a lascivious slingshot. But the target of this slingshot was no Goliath – it was Elvis, bigger than any Goliath. And its launcher was a petite beauty whom no one would ever mistake for a David and who was sitting several tables away from me suddenly and impulsively bra-less.

Tommy, a natural unlike his father, lifted the bra from the floor and teasingly draped it around his neck, now channeling early-sixties Sinatra, whose loosened tie and tipped fedora telegraphed a realm of cool even Elvis must have envied.

This is a moment I will always remember like no other at the Club, all thanks to the bra-less blond member, whose cyclonic energy has kept the Club's gyroscope whirring for as long as Alice and I have been members. I have always felt the slingshot bra should be prominently displayed in the Club's trophy case, right next to that furry hat.

YACHTING PROTOCOL – BOATING ASSOCIATIONS JOHN GADDIS - STAFF COMMODORE

Since its inception in 1976, Pacific Corinthian Yacht Club has had a rich history of cruising, sailing and racing. This history can be seen as you walk the halls and see the trophies and plaques of the many awards won by our members. But PCYC is one part of the many yacht clubs and organizations that make up a rich and vibrant sailing community here in Southern California.

Our Club belongs to many organizations that support and promote boating. Some of those organizations include: US Sailing, Southern California Cruiser Association and Yacht Racing Union of Southern California. I want to highlight two associations that directly affect our Club.

The first is the Association of Santa Barbara Channel Yacht Clubs (ASBCYC). The ASBCYC includes Pacific Corinthian Yacht Club, Anacapa Yacht Club, Channel Islands Women’s Sailing Association, Channel Islands Yacht Club, Harbour Island Yacht Club, Pierpoint Bay Yacht Club, Santa Barbara Sailing Club, Santa Barbara Yacht Club, Ventura Sailing Club, and Ventura Yacht Club.

ASBCYC is mainly involved in setting the sailing racing schedule for its clubs. These sail races include TGIS (the letters stand for Thank God Its Sunday) Winter Racing Series from February to April, the McCune Race, our Club’s flagship race the McNish Classic Yacht Race, and the TGIS Fall Racing Series from September to December. PCYC has multiple boats that race in these events.

The second group is the Southern California Yachting Association (SCYA). SCYA is a yachting and boating organization that services amateur yacht clubs, sailing clubs and power boat groups. A non-profit California corporation, it supports boating groups and clubs from Fresno, California, to Baja, Mexico, and inland to Tempe, Arizona, Lake Havasu, Arizona, and Las Vegas, Nevada. The focus of SCYA is to provide a single platform whereby harbor associations, yachting clubs and boating clubs rendezvous and regatta organizers can communicate and coordinate their respective activities in one forum. SCYA is recognized nationally by US Boating and US Sailing as a regional association.

The services SCYA provides to PCYC are the coordination of boating activities throughout the region, education on boat safety and other topics, celebrating and recognizing yacht clubs, providing communication through the region with publications like the Searchlight Newsletter, of which I am the editor, and meetings allowing members to connect. In addition, the SCYA informs the general boating community of special legislation that can impact the boating community. SCYA also prints the most authoritative directory on all member yacht clubs, boating groups, and harbor associations in its annual Southern California Yachting Association Yearbook. They have been providing these services for over 100 years.

For more information on any of these organizations, email me at johnwgaddis@gmail.com.

Professional Summary & Objectives

Helping others is always time well spent!

As a current member of the PCYC Bridge, I help to make decisions which will secure the future success of PCYC.

I am applying for Vice Commodore due to recommendation by my peers and a continued commitment to be a valued PCYC Bridge Officer. My experience as Rear Commodore has been a tremendous help in preparing me to be a Vice Commodore.

I'm grateful to be a part of this amazing yacht club!

PCYF NEWS JrS/C ROBERT ALEXANDER

PCYF President's Report

This past month I had the privilege of attending the California Department of Boating and Waterways (DBW) annual meeting, held in beautiful South Lake Tahoe. I was joined by fellow PCYF board members Richard Dean and Jane Thomas, as we gathered with representatives from other nonprofits, universities, and organizations that are recipients of DBW grants.

The meeting was both informative and inspiring. There was an atmosphere of collaboration as participants shared current challenges in youth boating and water safety education, along with creative solutions that are being applied across the state. It was clear that PCYF is part of a larger community working to keep boating accessible, safe, and sustainable for future generations.

Closer to home, our own board continues to focus on maintaining and improving the quality of our programs. Wendell has been working closely with our instructors during the off-season, ensuring that their skills remain sharp and up to date. This investment in professional development directly benefits the young sailors we serve, and it reflects PCYF's ongoing commitment to excellence.

Of course, our mission is made possible only through the generosity of donors and supporters. We continue our active search for donations and other community partners who can help us sustain and expand opportunities for local youth on the water. Every contribution, large or small, helps us provide the boats, equipment, and training needed to keep our programs thriving.

Board of Directors. We are seeking individuals who are willing to share their talents for the benefit of our youth. Please consider how you might help and give me a call. 805.765.1414.

As we head into the holiday season, I'm reminded of how grateful we are for our PCYF family and the broader community that believes in the power of sailing to build confidence, teamwork, and life skills in young people.

Thank you for your continued support of PCYF.

PCYC ON-THE-WATER SCOTT VON LANKEN

From the Desk of Fleet Captain Power and Electric

As I sit down to write this Periplus article for the November edition, fall weather has set in, the skies are cloudy outside, the temperature has dropped into the 50s, and we are expecting our first rainstorm of the season.

However, later this same week, sunny Southern California skies will be upon us again, and temperatures will be back into the 70s. Such is life in the fall in Southern Cal. For the PCYC cruising fleet, both Power and Sail, we will be heading to the City of Avalon on Catalina for our annual fall cruise. Over 55 people (including 14 landlubbers) from PCYC will be descending on Avalon for fun in the sun. Daily Happy Hours, group dinners, a competitive round of miniature golf, and exhilarating hikes will take place.

Have you ever cruised with PCYC? If not, below are the Top 5 reasons why you should cruise with PCYC . . . even if you don't own a boat.

1. It's a fun way to meet and get to know fellow PCYC members.
2. An opportunity to get out on the water and see what is beyond the Channel Islands Harbor.
3. See sea life. Whales, dolphin, seals, birds and much, much more.
4. See and experience THE Channel Islands, one of our National Parks. Anacapa, Santa Cruz, Santa Rosa, San Miguel, and, of course, Catalina.
5. An opportunity to use your boat, or, if you don't own a boat, to get on a boat.

Cruising with PCYC is for all PCYC members: Power, Sail, and Electric. Many of the cruises are open to powerboats AND sailboats. And, if you don't own a boat, some of the cruises are easy to actually drive to, i.e. Santa Barbara, Ventura, Marina del Rey, and, even, Avalon (via the Catalina Express, or Maverick helicopters). Come hang out with your friends, and we will get you out on the water!!

PCYC cruises are designed for easy participation. Planning is underway for 2026 already, and I can promise you it will be the most memorable cruising year PCYC has had in 50 years.

See You out on the Water!!

PCYC Overnight Cruise Adventure: Prisoner's Harbor, Santa Cruz Island By Mark Slothower

Set your course for fun! The Pacific Corinthian Yacht Club's overnight cruise to Prisoner's Harbor on Santa Cruz Island was nothing short of spectacular. Just 24 nautical miles from Channel Islands Harbor, this quick hop across the water puts our club in the perfect spot to enjoy one of the California coast's true gems.

Steeped in Island History

Prisoner's Harbor isn't just a quiet anchorage — it's a site buzzing with stories. The Chumash people called this coastline home for more than 5,000 years, with at least 1,200 residents in 10 villages thriving here by 1542. By the 1860s, when the area was known as La Playa, ranchers recognized its natural advantages, building a large wharf that became Santa Cruz Island's main commercial lifeline. In 1887, the iconic double warehouses—still visible from the water today — went up, using materials quarried right on the island to store supplies for the community.

Today, Prisoner's Harbor is the gateway to the island's wild side. Unlike the sometimes crowded Scorpion Cove, this spot feels peaceful and uncrowded, offering a refreshing escape surrounded by nature. The rustic visitor center — Harvey's Hut — stands on a nearby bluff, once used as a lookout, now welcoming adventurers with a hint of history.

Making Memories: My First Overnight at Anchor

Cruising aboard Reel Joy at 10 knots, I found myself at Prisoner's Harbor in no time — so much faster than trips to Long Beach or Isthmus at Catalina but lengthy enough to enjoy pods of dolphins and flocks of seabirds along the way. With gentle breezes and flat seas, the crossing was pure bliss. This was my maiden overnight anchoring, and, I admit, I woke up several times to check my anchor's hold — boater instincts at work!

Islandia was first to arrive on Friday. I arrived on Saturday morning, not long after Doug appeared on Rambling On with Charles Jordan and Eric Swartz. Eric's help in re-anchoring put me at ease, and soon we picked the perfect spot. The evening's tradition of PCYC's signature Happy Hour was kept alive thanks to Walt and Barbara, who hosted the festivities aboard their beautiful Islandia. Special thanks to Scott for planning this unforgettable adventure!

The Photos Say It All:

(Top) The iconic wharf at Prisoner's Harbor. (Middle) Laughter with Walt, Barbara, Tina, and me aboard Islandia. (Bottom) The still, peaceful beauty of a harbor sunset.

Each moment reminded us why we love boating — and why Pacific Corinthian Yacht Club cruises are always packed with camaraderie, adventure, and a little salty magic.

PCYC ON-THE-WATER BY RICHARD W DEAN

From the Desk of Fleet Captain Sail, Race Committee Chair

As you might have imagined, PCYC is not the only yacht club in the area that conducts sail races. In fact, there are several clubs in the local area, and most of them conduct sail races. PCYC coordinates the dates of our races with all the area clubs so that sailing events can be supported by all who wish to race across club boundaries. Which brings up an interesting idea! Imagine if PCYC has a sail racing team and perhaps a racing boat to go with the racing team! Members of the team could train together and participate in PCYC sail races as well as other yacht club races while representing PCYC within the racing community. This PCYC team could even compete in races outside the Ventura area, for example, San Diego, Long Beach, Santa Barbara, etc. The PCYC Sailing Department is exploring such a possibility in cooperation with the Pacific Corinthian Youth Foundation. More to come . . .

Many thanks to Mark Slothower, Co-chair of the Race Committee, for conducting TGIS Fall Series #2 on October 12. Mark and all the Committee did an excellent job administering the race

The PCYC App By Ron Dreher

Greetings Club members! I hope you are all doing well and enjoying the fall season at the Club. My last article was an introduction into the workings of the PCYC app. If you don't already have the app, you can download from the App Store or Google Play.

This article focuses on the three things I find handy in using the Club app.

1. My Reservations. When logging into the app, the first thing you see is your reservations. You will also see upcoming events. Navigate to upcoming events, and you can scroll thru them. If there is one you would like to go to, you can easily make a reservation.

2. Feed: Located at the bottom of the app, Feed is an assortment of items related to the Club, including email alerts, upcoming events, monthly statements, and even photos from past events.

3. Menu: Also located at the bottom of the app, this is where you find My Account and Reservations. I use this area to check my statement and the member directory. It also has your membership card, which is handy if visiting another club. You will also find the Club dining menu. I find this handy if my time is limited and I want to place an order when the server comes to my table.

There you go - three areas in the PCYC app that I find useful. See you at the Club, and if you have any questions ask me at the Club and I will be happy to help.

Ladies Who Do Lunch - HOPE SHINES BRIGHT

Hope was Shining Bright for all cancer victims on Thursday, October 9, at the Ladies Who Do Lunch Annual Fundraiser to benefit St. John's Healthcare Foundation Cancer Care Center. With thanks to the design ideas of our event co-chair, Char Holliday, the PCYC dining room was ablaze with lots of twinkling lights and multitudes of ribbons, representing the many colors of various cancers affecting women and men, and tables decorated with centerpieces of multicolored ornaments, silver buckets holding green money tree plants, and lots of lavender table accents, the color for all cancers,

We were honored to host the amazing team from the Integrated Breast Center of St. John's Hospital, including our speaker, Dr. Lisa Babashoff, Director of the Breast Surgery Center, who highlighted the very newest diagnostic and surgical technology imaging systems used in the operating room today; the Vice President of Philanthropy, Heather Huffman; and the team of Oncology Nurse Navigators, Christina Martinelli, Lisa Smith, Emily Young, and Alicia Zaragoza

Our special guests for our live auction were the A Shift team from Port Hueneme Fire Station 53, Capt. Tim Gonzales, Sean Driscoll and Jarrid Romero, and Battalion Chief Hector Garcia. Donna Gaddis did a fantastic job as our auctioneer and really kept the momentum going and the bids going up and up for lots of entertainment. Our sincere thanks to Margret Miller, who generously donates her home and a Full

English High Tea Party for 12, which is always a hit and a "big ticket" item. Other donations for our live auction were The Tiki Boat Lounge, three -hour Cocktail Cruise donated by Arlene and Keith Beckwith, and a three-day Mammoth ski weekend in 2026 donated by Judith Richards, our event photographer, who donated her Mammoth condo for the auction.

An incredibly special thank you to the LWDL Committee members who worked on this luncheon, who so generously gave their time to attend meetings, helped solicit opportunity baskets, and helped decorate the dining room, and all their efforts to make this a great fundraiser event. Thanks to all our members who donated beautiful flower arrangements, baskets and gift items. And a very special thanks to Staci Murphy for her continued support in providing all the luncheon special themed cookies, and to Andrea Jackson for her endless supply of decorations, providing the items for the surprise Mystery Bags, decorating and organizing many of the baskets and silent auction items.

Remember to Save the Date for the Annual Holiday Luncheon to be held Thursday, December 11, 2025.

Summer Slam Fishing Tournament 2025

Hello fellow anglers,

As the season winds down, there are still a few yellowtail and calico bass to be found, but rock fishing will be the primary focus until the end of the year. Please remember to check the updated regulations.

This year's tournament was a great success with 18 boats participating. The leaderboard saw many exciting changes, truly showcasing that you never know when you'll catch the big one! Awards were handed out October 11.

Congratulations to our winners:

John Fase - Biggest Calico and Yellowtail

Ben Hopps - Biggest Halibut

Eric Hermann - Biggest Seabass

Tim Dayton - Marlin

Mike Becker - Largest Tuna

Mike Price - Largest Ling Cod

Nichole Saslow - Lady Angler with the Largest Fish (White Seabass)

Milan Real (Juniors Tournament) - Largest Fish (Bluefin Tuna)

Mike Cromer - Largest Fish of the Tournament (210 lb. Bluefin Tuna)

Thank you to everyone who participated. We look forward to starting the tournament again next spring and hope to see both familiar faces and new members join the fun!

See you on the water,

Mike & Gina Haase
